LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI
GALA NIGHT AT THE OPERA, 1962

This absolutely unique CD is a major contribution to the vast and wide-ranging discography of the late Leopold Stokowski (1882-1977) in that it shows him in the rare guise of an operatic conductor. This recording comes from a complete concert he gave in Philadelphia in 1962, of major operatic excerpts sung by two of the greatest singers of the day - the magnificent Wagnerian soprano Birgit Nilsson and the wonderful American tenor George London. Recorded in stereo, with the original announcements as broadcast, this exceptional disc is sure to gain the widest possible interest.

SIR MALCOLM SARGENT
RACHMANINOFF, DOHNANYI, DVORAK, 1948-1956

Recent issues of recordings by Sir Malcolm Sargent (1895-1967) on the Guild label have been greeted with considerable critical acclaim - in particular an all-Rachmaninoff CD (GHCD 2423) which featured the Second Concerto played by Cyril Smith - here, on this new CD, is surely the greatest performance of Rachmaninoff's Rhapsody on a theme of Paganini next to the composer's own. And it is coupled with an equally dazzling account of Dohnányi's evergreen Variations on a Nursery Song - in both work, Smith showing himself to have been one of the greatest British pianists ever. The disc is completed with a wonderful performance of Dvorak's Symphonic Variations, also with Sargent and the Philharmonia - in excellent stereo.
