about the release

American composer Jake Heggie has penned some of the most beautiful vocal music of our day, and his operas and songs have been championed by some of today's foremost artists, including Joyce di Donato, Susan Graham and Frederica von Stade on the acclaimed AVIE release, Passing By (AV 2198). On The moon's a gong, hung in the wild, Grammy-nominated Austrian mezzo-soprano Angelika Kirchschrager is joined by the great Dutch lieder pianist Maurice Lammerts van Bueren, a devotee of Heggie's music who has given numerous premieres of the composer's work. This sublime collection from the song cycles Statuesque, Songs to the Moon, The Breaking Waves and Folk Songs is by turns rhapsodic, humorous and nostalgic.

critical acclaim for Jake Heggie, Angelika Kirchschrager and Maurice Lammerts van Bueren

"He sets thoughtfully chosen texts with maximum clarity, in lines which unfold expressively and even thrillingly above sympathetic accompaniments." * * * * *, BBC Music Magazine Choral & Song Choice (on Passing By, AV 2198)

"Ms. Kirchschrager's richly hued mezzo ... deliver[s] performances so vivid that [she] create[s] an impression of spontaneous communication" – The New York Times

"a first-rate collaborative pianist ... an artist who possesses an admirable technique and a deep, natural musicality ... an uncompromising, energetic and determined professional who knows what it is to be inside a song and make it live in the moment - and stay in the heart." – Jake Heggie, on Maurice Lammerts van Bueren
